

MYTHS OF SECONDARY SCHOOL

I will miss my old friends.

I will have the opportunity to make new friends.

The school is too big.

I have a map to help me navigate around the school and I can always ask for help at student reception.

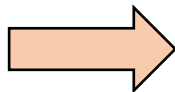

There will be too many people in the classes.

Primary and secondary have a max limit of 30 students per class. So, your classes will not be any bigger than your primary ones.

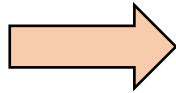

I will not remember my timetable.

I will have a timetable printed to out for me, which I can check.

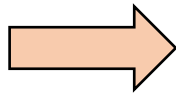

There are too many people.

Although there may be more people, you will not interact with everyone. You will have your tutor group and classes to stay with.

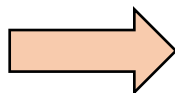

I will struggle on my own.

You are not on your own, you have lots of people to ask support from.

I will get too much homework.

You have more subjects, but you can check what homework you have on connect/TEAMS and it will be clear when you need to hand it in.
